Everyone's afraid of what comes next,
Like a baby bird who leaves the nest.
"The world's so big," the little bird says,
"It will tear you apart in so many ways."
But the momma bird sighs, and gives him a shove,
"It won't seem so big, if you look up above.
The sky is so big, but beautiful too.
Where the birds rule the air, and sail through the blue.
This tree is so big, but it keeps us up high,
Away from the monsters who can't reach the sky.
The meadow is so big, but helps animals hide.
And the river is so big, but it acts like a guide."
"But Momma," the baby bird said with a jib,
"What about me? I'm not very big."
The momma bird laughed, and gave him a smile.
"Well Baby Bird, it may take a while.

But you'll find your way... through it all,
Even though you are very small.
Nothing's impossible if you try,
And I know someday you'll be asking why.
Why the sun sets, why it rains,
Why the world holds so many pains,
Why all of the humans are all so clever,
And why our lives don't last forever.
There are many questions you'll come to face,
But each answer holds a different chase.
So you see Little Bird, don't be so scared.
The world is just waiting, it wants to be shared."
Then she pushed him again, but his feet stood still.
And the light breeze of spring, gave him a chill.
"But Momma I'll miss you," the baby bird cried.
And he hopped in the nest and his momma sighed.
"I know that you'll miss me, but it's not goodbye.
You know I'll be smiling as I watch you fly.
Now go Baby Bird, and I know you'll be brave.
And journey the sky, the good Lord has made.
You'll be alright, just don't look down.
And even if you're scared, don't wear a frown.
The momma bird was very wise,
And kept a twinkle in her eyes.
Baby Bird knew that his momma was right,
So he hopped out of the nest, ready for flight.
With wings spread wide, and talons flared,
He closed his eyes and embraced the air.
His momma smiled, and gave him a wink
And looked to the sky which was turning pink.
Then the bird said, "Momma I think it's time."
And so began the baby bird's climb.

Stories, friendships
and memories made.
Just hanging out together
we can waste a whole day.
We have are ups
and we have our downs,
but we'll never forget the bonds
we've made in this town.
We have one more year left
so lets make it the best.
Let's leave our mark
as our last request.

GOOD - BYE

As I prepare to leave Cambridge High School, I want to thank the many people who have helped me along this long journey. First off I want to thank all of my teachers for helping me prepare myself, along with my classmates for the future. Next, I want to thank the staff here at Cambridge High School for providing a helping hand and making sure all the kids have everything they need. Also, I want to thank the school board, booster club, and yearbook sponsors for making sure we have the proper materials we need in sports, school, and yearbook. Last but not least, I want to give a big thank you to Mrs. Anderson for helping me create this years yearbook, editing pages, and planning events to raise money. She makes sure the yearbook is spectacular year after year. Yearbook has been a fun experience throughout my high school career and I will never forget the people and memories made.

To our underclassmen, I hope the best for your years left at Cambridge. Always remember to enjoy the memories made, stay positive, and never give up on your dreams.

Sincerely,

Ashley Kruger

2011 - 2012 Yearbook Editor

"If ever there is tomorrow when we're not together.. there is something you must always remember, you are braver than you believe, stronger than you seem, and smarter than you think. but the most important thing is, even if we're apart.. i'll always be with you."

As the year comes to an end I would like to take this opportunity to thank the people who have put in a great deal of time and effort into making this yearbook a success. First, I would like to thank my staff for their hard work with bringing the yearbook to life with their hours of design, layouts, and captions. Second, I would like to thank our yearbook rep Jim Straub for helping us with any bumps in the road we may have had. Third, I would like to give Sandy Hull a big thnk you for suppling us with great pictures. And fourth, I would like to thank the school board and administration for allowing me the chance to work with such an exceptional yearbook students and staff members.

To the underclassmen: Enjoy these years you have, before long you will be walking across the stage at graduation into a whole new world after high school. Don't take things for granted. Keep working hard but don't forget to enjoy making memories along the way.

To the Seniors: I hope you have enjoyed these past four years of high school as much as I have enjoyed getting to know you. As you move into the next stage of your life I wish you nothing but the best in whatever you do.

To the editors: I am glad I had the opportunity to work with each and everyone of you. I enjoyed watching your ideas come to life in your yearbooks.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Anderson

HEARD

Taylor,
We want you to know that we are so proud of you and your accomplishments. Set your goals high and reach for the stars and there is no doubt in our minds that you are going to succeed at whatever you choose. We have loved having you with us these past 6 years, you have been a true inspiration and blessing in our lives and we are going to miss you dearly, but always know we are here for you.

Love,
Grandma and Grandpa

suicide SMS Prevention

Scott Michael Smith

(August 7, 1965 – April 3, 2011)

We started the SMS Suicide Prevention Fund after we lost a very important man in our lives to suicide, a husband and a dad. Our mission is to bring awareness of the devastation of suicide to the people of our community and hopefully more. Through our efforts, we have raised large amounts of money to donate to different suicide prevention organizations. We have had much success, and we hope that others can benefit from our organization. Don't let someone you know become a victim of suicide.

While there is life there is hope.
