Dedication

Mr. and Mrs. Baylor were a special part of Bright Beginnings. Mr. Baylor was a "regular" with Daycee and Aiden, his two small grandsons. We will miss you Mr. Baylor!

-Beth Smith and Rita Lookingbill: Bright Beginnings Teachers

Bob was one of my first subs when I started teaching 5th grade. The next day when I returned, my students were so impressed that someone could print in a perfectly straight line.

-Bonita Vincent: 4th Grade Teacher

One of my most favorite memories of Mr. Baylor was when I was in 6th grade. We had wrestling intramurals during recess and we got to roll out the real wrestling mats. The boys got to learn actual wrestling moves while the girls cheered on the side lines. Some of us got to learn to do the books. We would sit on the sidelines and watch Mr. Baylor roll around on the mats and raise his hands for a take down and two points.

-C.J. Wexell: Grade School Secretary

Bob and I graduated the same year (1964) from Geneseo High School, the last class to graduate from the old high school. He played on Coach Bob Reade's first team in Geneseo (1962), and the first winning team in Geneseo (1963) as quarterback. We taught sixth grade for ten years together at Cambridge Elementary. For many years he took the fifth and sixth graders to Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago. Then we both moved to the high school in 1995. Bob should be remembered for always being willing to help, no matter what the task. He was always glad and willing to do anything for the school - even things no one else wanted to do.

-Mary Ghys: High School English Teacher

Every Cambridge graduate has memories of their grade school years and the ALL SCHOOL ELEMENTARY TRACK MEET. When I taught Physical Education at the Elementary in the 1980's and 1990's, Mr. Baylor taught there. He was always one of the first to volunteer to help me. Bob would come to me and say "When do you want me to help you line the track?" It didn't matter how hot or how late we did it, he was always there to do the extra work to make sure the track was lined and marked for the BIG DAY. Thank you Mr. Baylor for doing the "not so little" things that a lot of people didn't realize.

-Jean Combites: Retired Elementary teacher.

"Let's Go Save Gotham City!" says Jenna Berg while Reva Legate prepares for take off.

Look Mom! Tyler Nimrick shows off the sign that T.J Kane welded for him in the Ag Room.

Sophomore Student Council: Reva Legate, Dana Brock, Angela Cheek, and Jessica Nail.

"How are we possibly going to get to the football game?" Emily Peterson said. "I just don't know. Let me think," said Tayler Hein.

Can you believe this guy? Devin Kluever and Dustin Johnson take a break from dancing and watch the others next to them that just look plain silly.

Where did she go? Austin Brown looks around the gymnasium for the girl he was talking to. Maybe she left?

Everybody hit the floor! Tayler Hein, Rebecca Underwood, Joey Allen, and Ariel Spilker do the Sledgehammer at an assembly.

Whatcha talkin' 'bout camera guy? Kalli Humphrey gives the yearbook staffer a confusing look as she talks to her friend in Starnet.

Will Raley finishes his project but gets annoyed by all the pictures being taken in class.

Brrr! Austin Strobbe puts his hood up to stay warm in the freezing cold industrial arts building.

Work it! Hanna Swanson and Jazmine Torbio stop strutting their stuff long enough for the camera to take a picture.

Ready, get set, go! Kelsey Lavin waits for Ms. Jansen to call out the next word to translate on the board. Unfortunately, she did not win the round.

Careful! Jacob Elliott keeps his eyes on his work in industrial arts to avoid losing a finger.

Get to work! Kane Sovey and Matthew Johnson were caught doing nothing in physical science class. Fortunately they got back to work before their teacher caught either of them.

Kevin Miller thinks very hard in Ms. Wirth's class adding the numbers $2+2$. His answer was 5.

Dominic Martin "studies" in home ec. class. His phone was helpful for landing a date with the girl of his dreams.

Yum! While watching the movie Juno in home ec. class, Ben Smith gets ready to indulge in some piping hot tater tot casserole that he just made.

Taylor Novak takes a break from math class and begins to daydream about getting an A on her assignment.

The Fresh-Soph Volleyball team makes a circle in celebration after scoring a point to win the game.

Skylar Rapp thinks very hard while translating words on the board in Spanish class.

Aly Smith spruces up in the Ag. an autumn a pumpkin room to make decoration.

Nathan Evans gets ready for the brain teaser he and his team are trying to win at Bonfire. Unfortunately his team recieved last place in the game.

Matthew Johnson is hard at work in the gym trying to get the decorations up in time for the Homecoming dance.

Boogie on down! Lucas Kirlin and Sarah Fink do a little dance while waiting for senior class pictures to start.

Way to go! Ian Roden smiles and flashes a thumbs up sign while sporting his tuxedo t-shirt. He is hoping that his shirt will hold up until prom.

It's Mine!! Senior Nichole Owen guards her beach ball to make sure no one steals it before senior class pictures start.

Pucker Power! Chase Maertens carefully watches Laurel Whitford as she tries to swallow her sour candy. Luckily she was able to get it down okay and no medical attention was needed.

Bill Burklund tries to focus very hard on his Spanish IV project, but is distracted by the flash of the camera. Fortunately, he was able to finish his project receiving a well earned grade.

After checking his wrist-watch and waiting for the bell to ring, Joseph Shreeves stops to pose for the camera in the middle of his Biology I class.

Amber Davidson stops playing her guitar to allow a member of the yearbook staff to take a picture of her.

While standing under the lights at a football game, Kyle Rusk sticks out his tongue in an attempt to catch a moth.

Donnie Tate makes a funny face for the camera. What more can we say?

Oh Yea! Kiersten McKie, dances and has a good time at the homecoming dance.

Nichole Owen and Dalton Casteel move in sync as they slow dance at prom.

Anthony Moody and his date sway to a slow song enjoying homecoming as it comes to an end.

Dances

A group of friends gather around and form a swaying circle to the last song of the night at homecoming.

Arie Yenor busts a move on the dance floor at the 2009 prom.

Cotton Eyed Joel, Jasmine Harp and Victoria Hanson twirl around on the dance floor at the 2009 prom.

Kale Lookingbill and Miles Fritch point and laugh at some of the people on the dance floor at prom.

Nice Hair! Mr. Stone and a group of freshmen play dress up to look like Stat Boy Stone on Heroes That Didn't Make it Day.

Emily Peterson, Rebecca Underwood and Taylor Klein show school spirit wearing their dance initiation outfits.

Abi Stevenson and Leah Maertens help lead the juniors with their chant during class competition day. The goal was to be the loudest class overall and they won.

2008 Homecoming Court

The 2008 Homecoming Court Attendants: Steven Lenertz & Laurel Whitford, Lord & Lady: Andrew Johnson & Jasmine Beam, King & Queen: Brinton Vincent & Sarah Fink, Duke & Dutches: T.J. Kane & Erica Nimrick, Attendants: Cayla Walsh & Daniel Walsh, Crown Bearers: Matthew VanHyfte & Olivia Akers.

Ryan Keenan and Ben Smith work their hardest at decorating the freshman hallway. Ben's attempt at flexing for the camera didn't impress the ladies. Sorry Ben.

Some members of the sophomore class tumble to the ground, after losing the first round of the tug-of-war class competition to the seniors.

Cheyenne Grant-Witt was very helpful hanging streamers for the junior's superman themed hallway. Although she was too short to reach the ceiling, it was a job well done. Way to go Cheyenne!

Hailey Clark and Jacquie Imhoff take a break from blowing up dance decor and instead decide to dive into the pile of balloons. What a team!

Go Spidey go! David Yenor does a mighty impression of Spiderman on the juniors Homecoming Float.

Vroom! Emily Peterson speeds through the Homecoming parade on her personal motorcycle as a member of the CHS Dance Team.

Homecoming

October 4, 2008 was the date set for Homecoming for the '08-'09 school year. The week started out with decorating hallways as the first class competition. The week's theme was Superheroes, which made the dress-up days very humorous.

Bonfire night came and the class competitions finished with a tug-of-war battle between the classes.

To finish out the bonfire festivities, the Homecoming court was named, crowning Sarah Fink as Queen and Brinton Vincent as King.

Homecoming Day started out with a magnificent parade and pork chop dinner. Shortly there after, the football players triumphed over Abingdon with their first win of the season. The day was finished up with the dance, and the students celebrated all night long.

Left...left...left, right, left. The Cambridge Marching Band steps in sync in the Homecoming Parade. They started off the parade with a bang and played with pride.

Jake Young waves to the cheering crowd as 2008 Henry County Beef Ambassador.

Judy Carlson, part of the duo Twisted Sisters, has the best time riding in the parade with her better half, Chris DeKezel. They zoomed through the crowd on a golf cart decorated with Viking regalia.

King Brinton Vincent and Queen Sarah Fink reign over the parade and smile to the town of Cambridge.

Twirl Girl! Arie Yenor, captain of the color guard, leads the squad through downtown Cambridge.

Another Viking Victory

After a thrilling game, the victorious Vikings shake hands with the defeated Commandos.

"Who are you yelling for?" Cambridge Vikings! The CHS Cheerleaders pep up the players with their spirit.

Tough crowd. Emily Schmoll and watching the thrilling Homecoming game.

and a great show on the sidelines while

Wow! What a block. Look at the hit that T.J. Kane gave the Commandos. The boys are still shaking from this powerhouse.

Nice job, #21, Steven Lenertz gets a well earned pat on the back from an Abingdon player after an intense play.

Are you ready for some football? Austin Root, #9, gets ready to rumble on the field.

Hurry up! After a hard hitting block on the Commandos, Riley Lavin, #51, hustles back into the huddle to hear the next play.

Patrick Morey runs for the third touchdown of the day while his mom watches from the crowd.

Attention! Jessica Nail and Brinton Vincent get ready to take the band on the field to get the crowd pumped.

Yoooooooouu! Andrew Frew, Jared Wells, and Blake Banovitz stop battling the Soulja Boy dance for a picture. As soon as it was taken, the trio continued their battle.

Andrew Johnson and Steven Lenertz try and murder the camera person with their eyes as they have a great time at the dance.

Twist and Shout!

The Duke and Dutches of the night, Erica Nimrick and T.J. Kane, stopped dancing to pose for a picture.

Hey, Mrs. Anderson! Clayton Carr tries to scare Mrs. Anderson by sneaking up on her and screaming. She was not phased, instead, she shot this photo.

Macho, macho, man! Billy Burkland boogies his heart out on the dance floor and making all of the ladies swoon.

Shake a tail feather! Arie Yenor and Chandra Moats get low on the dance floor.

Young Man! Bethany Nelson, Brinton Vincent, and Lindsey Nelson bust a move to the song YMCA.

Say what? Jessica Nail cracks up after hearing Angela Cheek's joke about elephants on the dance floor.

King and Queen for the 2009 prom were Jasmine Beam and T.J. Kane.

Prom

Mikel Miller and Donnie Bates link arms for a picture. Little did they know that Eric Douglas was placing bunny ears on them.

Kiss Kiss! Leah Maertens and Lindsey Nelson give senior Brinton Vincent a kiss on the cheek before dinner.

Laurel Whitford and Andrew Frew competed against one another in a dance off showing off their moves. In the end it was a tie.

Y-M-C-A!
Tabatha

Riordan, and Rachel Carlson form the "M" of this famous dance.

Peek-A-Boo! Meagan DeKezel and Jessi Lindquist peek into the infamous castle to see if anybody is watching the prom activities.

Alex Frew and Greg Evans enjoy each others company during prom.

While out on the dance floor, Amanda Kruger tries to convince James Cheek to bust a move.

Hey Macarena! Ian Roden and Abi Stevenson dance to this popular song during the 2009 prom.

Courtney Smith and Bill Burklund gaze into each others eyes during a slow dance at prom.

Enchanted

On April 18, 2009, the Cambridge High School Junior/Senior Prom was held at Lavender Crest Winery in Colona, Illinois. The evening started out with coronation, which was held at the high school due to bad weather, where King T.J. Kane and Queen Jasmine Beam were crowned. With the theme being Enchanted, the Winery was decked out in purple waiting for the prom attendees to arrive. Once having ate a delicious dinner of chicken parmesan and roast beef, it was time to burn off those calories on the dance floor. With tired feet and a headache from the music, it was time to begin the late night of fun at after prom. With a water pipe in the school having been broken the day before, there was no water to be used in the building. Luckily there were porta-potties for our convience. After many games played and prizes taken home, the 2009 prom came to an end.

Wheee! Clayton Carr slides down the obstacle course for a record time.

La la la. A guest sang with Jasmine Harp, Victoria Hanson, Caleb Dillman, and Bethany Nelson in the cafeteria as part of after prom entertainment.

Jennifer Salunier smiles to herself after completing the obstacle course.

Cousins, Cayla Walsh and Daniel Walsh touch gloves in the inflatable boxing ring at the after prom festivities.

Riley Lavin and Clayton Carr enjoy the fun games such as the sumo wrestling suits at after prom.

Ready, Set, Go! Two students race each other on one of the inflatable blow up toys.

Amanda Kruger, Jennifer Salunier, and Kiersten McKie feel privileged to sit with the prom queen at after prom.

Marina Nuckles, Greg Evans, Clayton Carr, Riley Lavin, and Kiersten McKie enjoy each others company as they get ready to claim their after prom prizes.

Alex Frew and Greg Evans provide some entertainment to begin after prom.

After reading the Canterbury Tales, James Cheek attended a medieval feast held by the English IV class. The delicious food ranged from chicken legs, strawberries and snow, and mushroom tart.

Academics

Lindsey Nelson pays careful attention to her recipe to make sure that it turns out as planned. It ended up tasting wonderful and she was named top chef for the day.

Freshmen, Hanna Swanson, gets into the fall spirit by decorating her pumpkin in the Ag. room.

Hailey Clark focuses very hard on her math assignment. Crunching numbers can be very hard on the brain!

Measure twice, cut once! Sarah Larsen and Andrea Palmer diligently work in Mr. Brown's classroom to get their assignment done.

Taylor Vincent focuses on her assignment given by Mr. Stone.

¡Hola! Seniors Jared Wells and Steven Lenertz politely sit and wait to review their Spanish IV restaurant.

Nice Shades! Ag. student Brandon Wilkinson carries up a bucket of corn from behind the industrial arts building for an upcoming project.

Science

Brittany Bainbridge and Aly Smith carefully measure their chemicals to make sure their experiment goes as planned. Thankfully, no one was hurt.

Nice Shades! Kevin Beuseling and Matthew Johnson work together on a lab.

Mikel Miller, a junior, peeks into a microscope to observe some microscopic organisms in Ms. Look's class.

Even though the art of twirling pencils is an acquired skill, Devin Kluever tries to keep his attention toward the front of the classroom to learn the day's science lesson.

Reading her science assignment, Sarah Wells tries to stay focused and not become distracted by the camera.

Flexing for the camera, Justin Bowers tries to impress the class. Unfortunately, no one was paying attention to his efforts.

Abi Stevenson and Jaclyn Riordan work together to make some observations about a creature inside the box. Unfortunately, the specimen died two days later making grading very hard for teacher Ms. Look.

While taking notes, Ryleigh Clark works through the hour to fully prepare himself for an upcoming exam.

Ouch! While sitting in science class, sophomore Lexi Sipp begins to nervously chew on her nails before the big test.

Mr. Stone

Math

Andrea Palmer assists Devin Kluever with his math assignment. Way to work as a team!

Ms. Wirth

Bethany Nelson works diligently on her homework in Mr. Stone's class and was able to get it done and turned in on time.

Do we turn this in? Kelsey Lavin asks Dominic Martin whether they are to turn in their homework assignment now, or at the end of class. She figured it out and it was turned in on time.

Mrs. Storm

Kody Nimirck and Danyelle English work hard on their project in home ec. They worked together and recieved a well-earned grade.

Macy Papini helps Nichole Owen read a recipe for their foods class. With the two working together they were able to make a good meal with no miscalculations.

Jordan Summers adjusts his headphones while working on some papers in Mrs. Storm's room.

Dominic Martin focuses very hard on his paper to turn into Mrs. Storm.

Macy Papini places her cinnamon rolls on a pan for baking.

Kallie Cecil tries to hide from the camera, but we were able to catch her working on her paper.

Erika Roden works hard on her assignment. It sure looks tough!

Ms. Jansen

Junior, Courtney Smith, pretends to brush her hair while putting on a play for her Spanish class.

Teacher's aide, Kristin Helg makes copies of a test for the Spanish II class.

Spanish IV student, Nichole Wilson, busily decorates her table for the Spanish restaurants. They later reviewed each restaurant, and received an excellent rating.

Courtney Smith, a freshman, anxiously waits for Ms. Jansen to start the Spanish game they are about to play. In the mean time, she turned and smiled for the camera.

Spanish

Way to go! Andrew Frew gives Laurel Whitford a piggy back ride while flashing a thumbs up sign to the camera.

Marina Nuckles and Jennifer Salunier laugh and have fun while watching their classmates dress up and put on a show. Even though the play was enjoyed by all, these two enjoyed it the most.

Smile and Wave. Austin Root, Cheyenne Grant, and Bethany Nelson compete in a pageant while performing skits in Spanish class. While Cheyenne and Bethany both have great legs, there was no doubt Austin had this one in the bag.

Kelsey Lavin, Hailey Clark, and Hanna Swanson focus very hard while learning new Spanish vocabulary words for an upcoming test. They are so excited and cannot wait to take the test!

Enjoying la clase de Espanol, Abi Stevenson, Sara Wells, and Stephanie Reinstadtler watch as Ms. Jansen tells a joke at the front of the room.

Goodbye

As the yearbook comes to a close, there are some people I would like to thank. I would like to thank our teachers for the pluthera of knowledge that they have instilled in us. I would like to thank Mrs. Anderson, for without her organizational skills and determination we would not have gotten this yearbook done on time. I would also like to thank the students for cooperating with having their picture taken throughout the year. Without you we would not have this collection of hilarious pictures.

To the Seniors: This was our year! Our football, volleyball, golf, cheerleading, musical, and marching band seasons were all very successful. As for basketball, pep band, dance, speech, track, and many other activities, we had a great time. These activities have taught us many valuable lessons and helped shape who we are. Over the years we have learned many things that will prepare us to put our best foot forward as we enter into the real world. We have learned to work as a team, furthered our social skills, and learned responsibility. I would like to wish everyone of you good luck as you begin your new life path. I hope to see all at our class reunion in five years.

To the Underclassman: Good luck with the rest of your high school career. Make sure to make the best out of high school, even if you only have one year left. The memories you make in high school will stay with you forever.

To the yearbook staff: Thank you for working with me to make the yearbook amazing. Although we have had our ups and downs, we have gotten through it. Thank you for all of your creative ideas. The final product was definately worth all of our hard work and dedication.

I hope that you have enjoyed this yearbook and think it is the best that we have had so far. I hope that it serves as a reminder of all of your great memories of CHS! Good luck to all of you next year! If you are ever down, just remember... Shake It!!!

Sincerely,
Brinton Vincent, Editor
